Dr. Noah Langdale To Receive School Bell Award

Architectural Essay Winner

President Paul R. Beall awards $50 to Bonnie Lynn Tash, a sophomore, for her essay on the new architectural requirements of the college. Charles W. Ferguson, senior editor of Reader's Digest judged the entries in the contest, which was open to the entire student body.

Dr. Noah Langdale, Jr., President of Georgia State College, will receive the Oglethorpe Alumni Association's Bell Award on March 18. The School Bell Award breakfast will be held at the YWCA on Edgewood Avenue, Room 305, at 8:00 A.M.

The award is made annually by the alumni association to persons who have shown an outstanding interest in the field of education. Last year, Governor Carl Sanders and his seventh grade teacher, Miss Emma Wilkinson of Augusta were the recipients of the award. Miss Wilkinson is an alumna of Oglethorpe.

Dr. Langdale will deliver the major address at this year's breakfast. Over 100 alumni and friends attended last year's affair and a good turnout is expected this year.

Admission to the breakfast is $1.75 and tickets may be purchased at the door.

Three New Faculty Members Now Serving Oglethorpe

Oglethorpe College started the Spring semester with three new faculty members.

Mrs. Susan K. Sholar is the new dean of women. Dr. Edwin McKay Roberts is a visiting lecturer in Physics, and Dr. Stuart Barton Babbage joins the Humanities division as an associate professor.

Mrs. Sholar was Phi Beta Kappa at the University of South Carolina where she received her A.B. and did graduate work in history. She has taught history at high schools in South Carolina and Virginia and was director of Religious Education at the Congregational Church in Arlington, Va. Mrs. Sholar has served as an intelligence analyst for OSS and as an intelligence specialist and interpreter for Air Force Intelligence, both in Washington, D. C. She is a South Carolina native.

Dr. Roberts received his B.S. from West Texas State College and his Ph.D. from The John Hopkins University. He has held research positions with Socony Mobil Oil Company in Dallas, the Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory in New Mexico and Lockheed-Georgia Company in Marietta. Dr. Roberts is a member of the American Physical Society and has had numerous articles published in physics and chemical journals.

Dr. Babbage was born in New Zealand and received his A.B. and M.A. from the University of New Zealand. He holds Ph.D. degrees from the University of London and the Australia College of Theology. He has taught at colleges and universities in New Zealand and England and comes to Oglethorpe after serving as a visiting professor at Columbia Theological Seminary. He is the author of six books, his latest "The Mark of Cain: Studies in Literature and Theology", having been published early this year.

Necrology

Marion Randolph (Randy) Dodd, '30, died December 24, 1965 in Atlanta. Mr. Dodd served with the Atlanta Police Department for 25 years and retired from Municipal Court in January, 1960. He was active as a civic leader and with young people. He was most interested in the Atlanta Baptist Training Union Association, the Boy Scouts, and the Y.M.C.A., organizations for which he worked untiringly. He was also voted Atlanta's Most Popular Policeman.

T. C. Wooten, '34, passed away in Orlando during October. His wife, Mrs. Catherine L. Wooten, '35, is now residing at 2025 Peachtree Road, N.E. in Atlanta.

Clarence Gordon Huey, '36, died at his home in Ocala, Florida in September after a brief illness. At the time of his death, he was a member of the faculty at the St. Paul Parochial School in Leesburg, Fla. He also was a graduate student at the University of Florida in Gainesville. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Huey of Port Charlotte, Fla.

Miss Sarah E. Callaway, '42, passed away in October after a long illness. She was residing in Atlanta at the time of her death.

Jerrold J. Quin, '50, was killed last August, when struck by lightning while golfing at The Louisville (Ga.) Country Club. He had been band director and instructor at Louisville Academy for the past 14 years.

Mrs. Sarah Miscally, a former board member at Oglethorpe died recently in Atlanta, where she had lived since 1910.

Make Your Nomination For the Hall of Fame

There are currently a dozen members of the Oglethorpe Athletic Hall of Fame.

The Booster Club nominating committee headed by Otis Jackson is accepting nominations for new Hall of Famers with an April 15 deadline. The new members will be inducted on Alumni Day, May 14.

Remember the deadline—April 15. Send your income tax and your Hall of Fame nominations by midnight on that date.

THROUGH THE YEARS

Mrs. J. R. Johnson, '34, is living at 965 Cascade Ave., S.W. in Atlanta. Her daughter Susan (Mrs. Wayne Roberts) is a teacher in Statesville, N. C. She has a son, Stephen attending the University of Georgia and a son, David who is with the U. S. Army in Fort Polk, La.

Col. Samuel L. Finklea Jr., '38, has been graduated from the armed Forces Staff College orientation course at Norfolk, Va. Colonel Finklea, who serves as executive officer with the South Carolina ANG headquarters, received instruction designed to better acquaint him with the present threat to free world security and with the nation's current defense concepts and capabilities. Colonel Finklea is air administrative assistant with the Office of the Adjutant General of South Carolina.

Tom Hunter, '46, drove several hundred miles across the state of Illinois to root for the Petrels when they played Southern Illinois in Carbondale. Tom works in data processing sales in Elmhurst, Ill. Tom brought his own cheering section that included his lovely wife, Dale and his youngsters, Turk, 16, Erica, 12, and Sarah, 4.

Major Sheldon (Shelly) Godkin, '52, received his current rank previously. He has been in the U. S. Air Force since graduation from Oglethorpe. He has been serving in Southeast Asia with the rating of Senior Pilot. He received his Masters in Public Relations from Boston University in 1963. He is married and has three daughters.

Mrs. D. W. Waddell, '53, who now lives in Bremen, Ga. is looking forward to her son, William's graduation in June from Georgia Tech. He made the Dean's List for the Fall quarter. He and his wife Susan and daughter Mindy live in Atlanta. Susan is a senior at Oglethorpe.

Connie Nesbit, '54, has been named Assistant Branch Manager of the Citizen and Southern National Bank's Roswell-Wieuca office. She is a former president of the Buckhead Business and Professional Women's Club.

Joseph P. Duckworth, '59, is teaching high school English in Grosse Point, Michigan, while working on a doctorate at Wayne State University. He is married and is the father of a three-month old child.

Nona Davis Bellflower, '61, is living in Anchorage, Alaska where her husband Estol is stationed as a Flight Surgeon with the USAF. She reports that she loves the chilly northland.

Paula Hofman, '62, is employed by the U. S. Government as a math teacher in the American High School in Baumholder, Germany, 100 miles of Heidelberg. She has traveled extensively throughout Europe, and is becoming quite a ski enthusiast. Last summer she received an NSF scholarship to attend a six weeks mathematics seminar conducted by members of the staff of Stanford University in Geneva, Switzerland.

Mrs. B. J. Parchman, '64, received an M.A. in English from the University of Illinois in August. She is presently teaching English and Drama at Santarna High School in San Diego, Cal.

A Booster Challenge

Two charter members of the Booster Club have offered a challenge to the rest of the membership. It the challenge is met, the Boosters will realize their goal of $10,000 for 1965-66.

The two Boosters, who prefer to remain anonymous until the goal is met, have offered a $1500 gift if the membership can match it 2 to 1 by Alumni Day, May 14. In other words, the Boosters need to raise $3,000 in order to get this $1,500.

The Booster Club is well on it's way to meeting its announced goal for the first time in several years. Gifts and pledges to date total well over $6,000, so there is no doubt of a successful year if this new offer can be matched.

Now is the time for all Boosters to make their contribution, if they haven't done so already, every $20.00 gift will mean $10.00 from the two "Mystery Boosters".

By meeting the Booster goal, the club will aid the entire college budget in a most crucial development year. Our hard working President Beall will certainly appreciate the assistance, as will the Alumni Association and Science Club, who will be stimulated in making their goals.

Petrels Play In NCAA Tournament

The Oglethorpe Stormy Petrels are wrapping up another fine basketball season, and at press time were readying to play in the NCAA Regional at Durham, N. C., March 4 and 5.

The scrappy Petrels presented Coach Garland Pinholster with another 20-game winning season, his 6th in his 10 year collegiate career, in earning the bid to go to Durham.

Coach Pinholster says this year's club has given him more thrills than any other Petrel team. At the beginning of the season, the Petrel boss expected a "rebuilding year" and the sophomore and freshmen-studded club won 20 of 25 encounters.

If the Petrels are successful in winning two games in Durham, they will qualify for the NCAA College Division finals to be played in Evansville, March 9-11.
